

Are you the parent/carer of a young person aged 14-25 with disabilities?

We need your experience and expertise!

Stockport Council and Parents in Partnership Stockport are holding a 'Preparing for Adulthood' Consultation event for parents/carers

'Preparing for Adulthood' is part of the 0-25 SEND (Special Education Needs and Disabilities) reforms which aim to support young people to move into adulthood with fulfilling lives. It focuses on young people aged 14-25; the crucial age at which they start to work out what they want to do with their lives.

We believe that young people want to have choices about their future and control of their support. Working with young people with SEN and disabilities to help them prepare for adulthood can be complex.

Navigating this system can be daunting to young people, families and professionals alike.

In Stockport, we are developing resources which will help you to do this.
